TRAVI - Discover the World by Experience

An intuitive AI platform that unifies trip planning, booking, payments, and rewards - from idea to checkout.

Once users choose their interests, TRAVI tailors the entire experience. Love malls and museums? You won't see desert safaris. Prefer nature and adventure? No shopping tours. TRAVI learns, filters, and displays only what truly fits each traveler.

Simple
No synchronization between personal interests and search results.

Smart
Dozens of open tabs for flights, hotels, attractions, maps, and reviews.

Personal
Small vendors disappear behind big OTAs and paid ads.

Travelers pay high commissions without transparency.

Traveling should be exciting - not frustrating.

The Problem

Trip planning today is fragmented and exhausting.

- No synchronization between personal interests and search results.
- Group payments are messy and unclear.
- Travelers pay high commissions without transparency.
- Small vendors disappear behind big OTAs and paid ads.
- Traveling should be exciting - not frustrating.

The Solution

TRAVI - One platform for planning, booking, and rewards.

- TRAVI uses AI to understand travelers and manage the entire journey.
- It displays only relevant content: flights, hotels, dining, and attractions that match personal interests.
- Bookings happen in one place, with Split-Pay so each participant pays their share.
- Every transaction returns value: commissions become closed-loop cashback, usable only within TRAVI.

Based on the Economy of Trust, vendors earn visibility by rewarding users.

One intelligent experience tailored, transparent, and rewarding.

Digital Layer (Games / Avatars / Web3)

Anatra Real Estate Division

From travel to property ownership, Anatra, TRAVI's real-estate subsidiary, turns frequent travelers into property investors. Within the app, an "Interested in Real Estate?" button appears for users who show repeated interest in Dubai. The transition from visitor to investor feels natural — no ads, no pressure.

Competition & Advantage
